Part 3: Long Talk Questions

Please listen to the following talk. Take notes on the talk using the form below. Then, you will hear several questions. Use your notes to answer each question. (Your notes in the form won't count towards your score.)

Question 7-9 (Read the form and options, before listening to the talk.)

Breathing is something we usually do without thinking. However, there is a special breathing technique that may help people fall asleep more easily at night. This method is called the 4-7-8 breathing technique.

The method is simple. You breathe in through your nose for four counts, hold your breath for seven counts, and breathe out through your mouth for eight counts. This cycle is repeated four times. Some people may feel slightly dizzy while doing it, but this is normal. It happens because the body releases more carbon dioxide than usual, which can temporarily reduce blood flow to the brain. If this occurs, you can count a little faster while keeping the same 4-7-8 pattern.

Experts suggest that this technique works by affecting the sympathetic nervous system, which controls the body's stress response. When this system is too active, it can make it difficult to relax and fall asleep. By practicing 4-7-8 breathing, the body gradually calms down, helping the mind move into sleep. For those who struggle with sleep, this simple technique may be an easy way to relax before bedtime. (6 Unit 5)

(A) Breathe out faster than you breathe in.
(B) Skip the second step of holding your breath.
(C) Stop for a while before starting again.
(D) Make each cycle faster, but keep the pattern.
- (A) 9. What happens when the sympathetic nervous system gets too active, according to the passage?
(A) We will not fall asleep easily.
(B) We will relax more.
(C) We will have difficulty breathing.
(D) We will lose count.
