My Discovery 心得: (80~100 words)

Although this story is imagable, it tell me that we can't know a people completely. Some people do the thing in this way in public place, but doing another at home. In relativety, we face ^{the} same thing, there must be different voice in our mind. What we have to do is stick to the true way and destroy the wrong way. In the story doctor become another ^{one} to do the bad thing. That show that he can't break out his terrible think. So we should hold on our mind when we face anything.
